The Offering

We are pleased to present a private opportunity to acquire five of the most important comic books ever published, each professionally certified by CGC. Together they span the two defining character debuts of the Golden Age — Superman and Wonder Woman — and the three cornerstones of the Marvel Silver Age: the Fantastic Four, Spider-Man, and the Hulk. Individually or as a group, these books represent a caliber of material that reaches the market only rarely, and almost never in these grades.
